

GOLDSMITHS COLLEGE
University of London

CULTURE, GLOBALISATION AND POWER

PO53008A

For students on all programmes in the Department of Politics

Summer 2004

Answer THREE of the following TEN questions (2 HOURS)

1. Critically discuss Said's notion of contrapuntal reading.
2. 'Globalisation is a new form of colonization.' Discuss.
3. Is Foucault's notion of governmentality useful in understanding colonial rule?
4. Why did Said's Orientalism have such a dramatic impact on post-colonial studies?
5. Discuss Frantz Fanon's notion of new humanism.
6. What does Spivak mean when she asserts that the 'subaltern cannot speak'?
7. Does globalisation undermine national identities? Discuss in relation to Appadurai's article on cricket.
8. Have women experienced imperialism and globalisation in the same way as men?
9. 'Post-colonial feminism has a different agenda.' Discuss by drawing on the work of Mohanty.
10. Does post-colonial theory have a role to play in understanding contemporary politics?